Description of change:

The WB1315X has been qualified for production at Chartered Semiconductor Manufacturing (CSM) in Singapore. CSM will be an additional source of fab capacity and will use the same fab process that is currently qualified for production at European Semiconductor Manufacturing (ESM) Fab in Newport, Wales, United Kingdom. The part number will change from WB1315X to CYW3335 for product from CSM (see page 2) and a new datasheet has been issued to reflect the part number change. No other changes have been made that effect form, fit, or function. Qualification data and comparative electrical characterization data are attached.
